Poor hand hygiene habits can have a huge impact on business results. Germs spread by hands may lead to illness. And most work environments expose skin to a variety of skin risks that could lead to occupational dermatitis. In either case, you pay the price in:

- medical claims
- lower productivity
- unplanned absences
- unskilled temporary labour and overtime

An emerging trend of many companies is offering wellness programs that address diabetes management, smoking, exercise, diet and stress reduction - all promoting healthy lifestyle choices that impact long-term health. Recent studies show that this new systems-approach to environmental health & safety impacts business results in terms of productivity, absenteeism, presenteeism, medical costs and insurance claims.

GOJO programs have demonstrated improved skin condition[1] and well-being through proper hand hygiene regimens. These results lead to less chance of dermatitis and cross contamination.

The results of our programs have been measured by incident rates and instrumentation, and felt by workers. Our programs are based on science, more than 50 years of focus on skin care, and experience and insight gained from serving many diverse markets with unique skin care needs.
